

Assembly Language (x86)

Write a program in assembly language (x86) that reads 3 integers from keyboard and finds and display the average of those numbers.

Take into consideration one or more numbers can be negative and the rest positive, or all three numbers can be positive or negative.